ELECTORAL ENROLMENT FOR FOREIGN RESIDENTS IN PORTUGAL IS VOLUNTARY FOR:

A European Union citizens, non-nationals of the Portuguese state, that reserve the right to an active and passive vote* in both local elections and European parliamentary elections;

B National citizens of Cabo Verde, that reserve the right to an active and passive vote for the election of the bodies of the local authorities;

C Citizens of the Federative Republic of Brazil, who require the Status of Equal Rights and Duties and Equal Political Rights, that reserve the right to an active vote in local, legislative and presidential elections. They also reserve the right to a passive vote for local elections only. Those who do not require the above-mentioned Status shall be as equally treated as the citizens of Cabo Verde.

D Foreign citizens originally from Argentina, Chile, Colombia, Iceland, Norway, United Kingdom, New Zealand, Peru, Uruguay, and Venezuela. All of which reserve the right to an active vote in local elections.

* The reservation of the right to an active vote consists of the right to vote, and the reservation of the right to a passive vote consists of the right to be elected.

Please check the necessary legal requirements for your enrolment at Junta de Freguesia de Estrela. The period in which you can enrol to vote expires 60 days before any elections.
